

DE BORTOLI WINES

Hall of Fame Inductees

De Bortoli Wines has been proudly named as one of Matthew Jukes' 2011 Hall of Fame wineries. Those inducted are considered the most consistent wineries in the 100 Best Australian Wines list since its inception in 2004, by being included in every single list. De Bortoli has had 24 wines in total named, falling second just behind the likes of Penfolds. Jukes says "They reflect what is truly exciting, engaging, passionate and essential about Aussie wine and they have all gained a well-earned place in the very highest echelons of the world of wine." On their accolade from Matthew Jukes, Victor De Bortoli said "It's an exciting recognition for our hard work in building our quality premium wines and this is helping underpin our success in local and overseas markets. Matthew Jukes is a highly respected Wine Correspondent in the UK so we take this recognition with a great sense of achievement."
