CHARDONNAY 2006

"This is one of the best-priced chardonnays in Australia. It has fruit from cool wine regions and uses hands-on winemaking techniques common to more expensive brands..."

Greg Duncan Powell, Australian Good Taste, February 2008

★★★★

"Another impressive wine from the Windy Peak Range. It's got plenty of fruit, with flavours of peach, melon and citrus, and the perfect amount of oak. The ideal match for chook."

Fergus McGhie, Canberra Times, 14 November 2007

"Windy is a statement of intent. It bellows 'come and have a go if you're hard enough' from its diminutive frame. There's an awful lot going on here for your [money], but it's utterly restrained and controlled in every way. You would not expect barrel fermentation complexity or lees stirring texture at this price, but then again, we have come to understand that nothing is as you would expect when Slingers, Billy Ray, Sarah Fagan and Lord Webber put their heads together. This might just be the most intellectual white wine you have ever tasted at this price."

Matthew Jukes & Tyson Stelzer, Taste Food & Wine 2008
